Celebrating International Labour Day

On the international labour day ships across the world will sound their horns at 12 noon local time to salute seafarers. This welcome ritual is to commemorate the contributions made by the sailors on board in calm and storm.

We wish you a very happy labour day. May the winds of achievement fill your sails and your journeys bring you joy and satisfaction.

FAQ's about Marine Spares

How can I be sure of buying the best marine spares?

Buy OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer) spares which ensure guaranteed compatibility and quality. If using aftermarket parts, ensure they are certified or approved equivalents with proven performance. Look for classification society approvals (e.g., DNV, ABS, BV). Ensure compliance with IMO regulations and your vessel's flag state requirements.

Ocean&Brine provides the best marine spares and all class certificates (E.g., ABS, NK, DNV, and CCS) and a manufacturing certificate with our company logo and quality-tested stamp.
